OFFICIAL NOTICE

It was recently brought to our attention that an unnamed perpetrator or perpetrators used the name of 'Global Environmental Institute' to deceive and mislead the public in an attempt to publicize and promote a digital bitcoin currency based on block chain technology. We solemnly declare the following:

Beijing Chaoyang Yongxu Global Environmental Institute (GEI) is a Chinese, non-governmental, non-profit organization focused on public welfare causes related to domestic and international development and environmental protection. We do not engage in internet-based financial services such as digital currencies and have never cooperated with any individuals or companies to carry out related business activities.

We urge the public to be vigilant and avoid being deceived. The acts of counterfeiting our official website, fraudulently using our own name and falsely claiming to cooperate with us, etc., in order to develop an internet-finance business, constitute serious infringements and we have the right to pursue the perpetrator to the fullest extent of the law.
